

I am against BPL in its existing form.

It will cause too much interference with existing radio services.

I understand power companies trying to generate more revenue by trying to get into this market, but this is not the answer.